

NatWest Group Archives
Guidelines for citation of our archival sources in publications

Information drawn from archival documents held by NatWest Group Archives should be cited in the form NatWest Group Archives xxxx where xxxx is the item's unique reference number, for example NatWest Group Archives GM/610.

If applicable, further detail specifying the location of information (eg, date or page number) should be included, for example NatWest Group Archives RB/12/4, p.59.

The repository name should be given in full at first citation (NatWest Group Archives), after which an abbreviation may be used, for example NWGA.

Any proposed publication (including theses and dissertations) citing information from NatWest Group Archives must be submitted to the Archives for review prior to publication. This is a requirement of access to the Archives' non-published collections, and it is also recommended where citations refer only to open-access digitised versions hosted on NatWest Group Heritage Hub.

Information about reproduction of copyrighted materials from our collections, including photographs taken by researchers and images published on NatWest Group Heritage Hub, is contained in the 'Reproduction of Archive and Art Materials Licence'. This form is available from NatWest Group Archives and must be completed and submitted as part of the application process for copyright permission.

The Archivists are happy to help with any queries about citation, copyright or related topics, and can be contacted at archives@natwest.com.
